

WIFE AWAKENED BY COOL ROBBER LOOTING HOUSE

Arouses Husband, Who Gives Chase in Pajamas
—No Police in Sight.

AFRAID TO FIRE AT HIM.

Dr. Savage Had Revolver, but Delivery Wagon Driver
Got in the Range.

The wife of Dr. Thomas R. Savage, who is a niece of Police Magistrate Crane, was awakened before daylight today by a burglar at work in the room in front of her bedroom, on the second floor of her handsome residence, at No. 151 West One Hundred and Nineteenth street. At first she thought the noise might have been made by mice among the glasses on a sideboard, but when she heard footsteps she awakened her husband.

Dr. Savage sprang out of bed, took his revolver from a drawer and started to go into the hall. The burglar had locked the door from the hall, and the doctor then tried the door leading into the dressing room, directly in front of the bedroom, which is the rear room on the second floor. That door also had been locked.

Throwing his weight against the panel, he broke it, reached through and unlocked the door, passing through the dressing-room, he entered the large sitting-room in the front. As he did so a man darted by him into the hall and down the stairs.

Several milk and bakery wagons were in the street and their drivers ran to the Savage house.

"For an hour all of us, including the many drivers, searched the neighborhood for a policeman," said Mrs. Savage to an Evening World reporter, "but we found none. My husband went to the home of my uncle, Magistrate Crane, at No. 131 West One Hundred and Nineteenth street, and roused him. He also joined in the search for an officer, but there was none."

The chase through the house and the screams awakened Mrs. Savage's nine-year-old daughter, who was asleep with a nurse on the third floor, and for a time the child was hysterical.

The burglar, who had gained access by climbing rear fences and forcing a small window back of Dr. Savage's study, on the first floor, obtained $20 in cash, an opal earring and a number of trinkets.

The fact of this burglary would probably have been suppressed by the police, like the many others which are daily occurring, had not the Harlem police today arranged before Magistrate Crane, in the Harlem Police Court a man on a charge of erecting fire-traps without a permit. In discharging the man Magistrate Crane said:

"If you policemen would pay more attention to burglars and real criminals and less to petty offenses we would have less crime. My niece was awakened in her home today by a burglar and we couldn't find a policeman after an hour's search. We finally had to go to the police station."

SAYS WOMAN ROBBED AND THEN BEAT HIM.

Negress Is Held for Highway Robbery and Assault with Strong Arm, Teeth and Hatpin.

Bertha Steller, a black, strong arm woman, was held in $500 for trial today by Magistrate Crane in the Harlem Court after she had heard a story of how she had robbed and beaten a defenseless man and fought two policemen and a car crew. The woman, who says she lives at No. 123 West Fifty-third street, denied all of it, but the complainant, James Smith, a white youth of nineteen living at No. 8 East One Hundred and Fourteenth street, had many witnesses.

Smith said he was passing Ninety-seventh street and Third avenue last night when the woman jumped out of a doorway and gave him the garrotter's grip. She choked him so hard he could not yell for help while she went through his pockets, taking $2. Then she threw him into an alleyway and ran for a downtown car. Smith followed, got on the car and asked for his money. Then he said the woman attacked him with a hatpin and a pair of scissors. The conductor interfered, but two cops sent him to the platform, where he called Policemen Taylor and Lynch, of the East One Hundred and Fourth street station. They found the negress sitting on Smith and choking his right forearm. After they had subdued her they sent for Dr. Berliner, of Harlem Hospital, who found Smith's finger bitten to the bone and more than twenty stab and slash wounds on his face and neck.

HOPE TO PROVE MRS. MUENTER USED ARSENIC

New Theory in Favor of Woman's Husband Is Likely to Be Heard.

(Special to The Evening World.)
BOSTON, Mass., May 1.—An analysis of the water and food taken from the Muenters' house at the time of Mrs. Muenters' death will be made some time today, at which both chemists for the defense and prosecution will be present. A strict search will be made for any trace of arsenic or other poisons.

Prof. Whitney, of Harvard, will be one of the chemists employed. Lawyer Pevey says that even if arsenic is found in chemical analysis his faith in his client will not be shaken. "I have a theory to account for the presence of any arsenic which may be found," is his statement, "and it will clear Muenters of any complicity in his wife's death. I do not care to divulge what that is at the present time."

The theory has been advanced that Mrs. Muenters was in the habit of taking arsenic for her complexion and Mr. Pevey will say nothing in support of denial of this statement.

An inquest in the Muenters case will be arranged for this week. It is stated, in order to get a clear, connected chain of evidence bearing on the case, which both the prosecution and defense admit, is vague at the present time.

Many witnesses, who have been approached, refuse to commit themselves, and it is felt that the legal investigation embodied in the inquest will be advisable and that as soon as possible, Attorney Pevey states that one of the points in his investigation which has surprised him is the firm stand in Muenters' behalf by many of his friends. "The man has many warm advocates," he said, "both among the students and faculty at Harvard, and among the residents of Cambridge. I found many who are ready to champion his cause."

The police of Cambridge hold to their opinion that Muenters is not in the West, but that on the contrary, is hiding somewhere near Cambridge. They believe he is fully informed of the progress of the case, and intends remaining concealed until after the affair blows over and is forgotten. The police are taken from the apartments of Erich Muenters, at No. 35 Oxford street, Cambridge, today by Police Chief Inspector Hurley and removed, with the consent of Gilbert A. Pevey, counsel for the Harvard instructors, but will be analyzed by Dr. William F. Whitney and a chemist selected by Mr. Pevey to represent Muenters. The inspectors to-day received the assurance of Miss Bertha Muenters, sister of the missing man, that she intended to do all in her power to find her brother and induce him to return to Cambridge. Miss Muenters was in the apartment during the stay of the inspector and he had an opportunity to talk with her. The young woman has recovered from the agitation caused by the revelation of the charges against her brother, and was quite composed. "He has reasons for staying away from Cambridge, which, perhaps, we do not know, but I am sure as soon as he hears of the charge which has been made against him he will start back," she said, talking of her brother. "I feel confident that my brother is alive, for he had no reason to kill himself. He is not insane and he had nothing to fear from any investigation of the death of his wife. The inspectors asked Miss Muenters some questions about the relations between her brother and his wife. The young woman said Erich was devoted to his wife and very fond of his children. She said she could not believe that there had ever been a lack of harmony between them."

MISSING MAN PERHAPS HURLED IN ACID VAT.

Frank Trosky Last Seen Alive
Entering Room of Big Chemical Works.

The police of the Hunter's Point, Long Island City station, are hard at work on what promises to be as difficult a murder mystery as has ever come to their attention. They are trying to find the body of young Frank Trosky, who has not been seen since he entered the acid rooms of the Laurel Hill Chemical Works last Sunday morning. It is feared that he was thrown into one of the big vats, where every trace of the body would have been soon obliterated. The police assert there existed a powerful motive for murder and are showing more than one in the Bohemian colony that lives in the Blauvelt section near the works. Among the women who admired the good-looking young Bohemian was the wife of one of Trosky's fellow workmen. She, too, is more than attractive. Her husband is a much older man. So marked did Trosky's attentions become that friends warned him of the danger he was running.

Trosky and the husband of the woman worked in the same gang. It is the theory of the police that the husband threw the purveyor of his wife's affections into one of the big acid tanks. The man would have lived perhaps twenty seconds. The body would have been eaten up by the powerful stuff within a few hours.

FIREMEN TO AID MEN IN 'FRISCO DEPARTMENT

Men Here Expect to Raise $5,000 for Benefit of Fire Fighters in Stricken City.

Fire Commissioner John F. O'Brien has authorized the subscription, beginning tomorrow, by members of the uniformed fire-fighting force, through Mayor McEllan, to a fund for the benefit of the Firemen's Relief Fund of San Francisco. The company commanders will collect from the firemen and transmit the amounts thus collected to the battalion chiefs, who will turn over the money to the secretary of the Fire Department Relief Fund, Peter J. Quigley.

The Commissioner has directed that no member of the department shall contribute more than $2 to the fund. As there are 500 uniformed firemen, it is expected that the amount raised will exceed $5,000.

ACTORS' BENEFIT POSTPONED.

The Actors' Society has voted to postpone its benefit until Monday, May 7. This will be given at the Hudson Theatre, for the theatrical sufferers of the San Francisco disaster. Though the original date was decided upon as long ago as March, the numerous other benefits for the same worthy cause have made necessary this change of plans.
